Merciless

Merciless

I just don't care if the world ends. I just don't want to care. I don't care about anything. Soon enough, however, it was a dark time. A human child, depraved and vile, in their smile; the terror of a killer. I was the first monster they had met, and I knew... I saw the dust. They killed a lot of people in the ruins. But... I didn't care. Knowing well of their sins, I let them past, I let them move on to my home town. I watched them kill so many innocent people... without any mercy. It hit me. That voice came from the ruins, when it stopped... after that promise... did they kill her? Later on, people evacuated Snowdin, leaving me with my brother; Papyrus. I continued to watch them, just to make sure, I wanted to know if they were killing in self-defense. But then... my brother tried to spare them... no mercy... the brat... _killed my brother._ I began to grow an immense hatred for them. I began to care, just not as much as I should have. Nowhere near as much as I should've...I watched as this child carried on too waterfall, still mercilessly killing anything that so much as crossed it's path. It even looked for people to kill. The child was grinning, terrifyingly so. If Snowdin hadn't evacuated, it would of met the same fate as Waterfall has. I was shaking, It struck me with shock, the kid following himâ€| was heâ€| going to kill a kidâ€|? I watched as they raised a knife and brought it down, butâ€| someone took the blowâ€| Just to be clear, I am fully aware of the resets. I am aware of when they happen. But this caught me somewhat off guard, I witnessed the hero of the underground, Undyne, kill the child repeatedly, but eventually, the child was able to kill her, they were now aware of hotland's evacuation process and now they were hastily kill what was left, and eventually they reached Alphys' lab. They were spotted by Mettaton. Mettaton transformed into Mettaton NEO, and it looked very promisingâ€¦ but noâ€¦ they killed him in one fell swoop. I couldn't do this anymore, I began to hurry over to the judgment hall, and it was then I fully sawâ€¦

Later on the kid reached me shortly after a flower passed me hurriedly. I began to pass judgment. But forgettaboutit, the Judgement was short lived as I began to proceed to attack the child with all my might, reset after reset after reset, the child was getting further and further and further into the fight, he was awfully, determined.

After killing him a bunch, I saw his thoughts, this kidâ€¦ wasâ€¦ dementedâ€¦

This comedian...

It was then that he managed to hit me,

...is too damn weak...

I walk towards the door as I recall my last wordsâ€¦

"Papyrusâ€¦ Do you want anythingâ€¦?"
